

The Service Commissioning Approach

It can be described as a continual and iterative cycle to define, design, plan, implement, manage and evaluate services to deliver outcomes in the most effective way. It is a systemic approach to ensure that the right services are commissioned with the right outcomes that matter, and that those services are delivered to the right people, at the right place, and at the right time.

